

Programs and Prices

KMA Berlin stands for high quality and fair prices for both you and our teachers. We make that possible through unique training concepts and modern ways of teaching.

Our unique training concept: Teaching music is always about both: Practice AND Theory. That's why we focus 100% on you and your practical skills during private lessons. The other part of your training at KMA Berlin is about your theoretical skills which are crucial for your learning. Our theory classes are packed with high quality information that you can discuss and learn together in small groups with other students. This system makes it possible for us to reduce cost and improve quality at the same time.

We adapt to your needs: Even if you only need coaching for one particular piece – we are happy to help you reach your highest potential!

Online Courses:

We are modern and flexible. That's why we also offer some classes via Skype and Livestream. This does not only reduce costs, it also makes classes like Music Theory more uncomplicated and enjoyable.

Home teaching (in Berlin):

You don't want to waste time and prefer lessons at home? No problem! For little extra cost we are happy to teach you at your home.

No cancellation period: We don't want to force you stay in a contract. We are confident that you will be happy with our teaching quality. That's why we do not have any cancellation period.

We are here for you – also during holidays: At KMA Berlin you don't have to pay during our vacation period (which is only one month during summer time).
